

Edward C. Homonoff

Bio:

Ed Homonoff is President of Edward C. Homonoff & Associates, LLC, a company focused on taking technology to market for companies that are in technical textiles businesses. Ed has over 30 years experience in technology and market development.

Ed has both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Textile Science from Clemson University and has worked at Fram Corporation (automotive and industrial filters), Dexter Nonwovens (medical nonwovens), and Knowlton Specialty Papers and Knowlton Nonwovens (specialty papers for friction, blotter, and filtration applications, and needlepunch materials for vinyl coated substrates, automotive headliners, and liquid filtration media applications).

Ed is a past Chairman of both TAPPI Nonwovens Division and the American Filtration and Separations Society (AFS) and remains active in the AFS in many committees.