AFS Integrity Policy

The American Filtration and Separations Society (AFS) is striving to protect and advance the values of the filtration and separations professions and protect the interests of all its members. Therefore, individual and corporate Members of AFS as well as Attendees and Exhibitors at AFS venues shall adhere to the following Integrity Policy:

• Comply with all laws, regulations, the AFS Anti-Trust policy and your company’s policies.
• Adhere to good business and behavioral practices.
• Present information objectively and truthfully.
• Act as a faithful trustee and maintain confidentiality of information.
• Use ethical and lawful means to gather competitive information.
• Avoid or disclose situations that pose a conflict of interest.
• Treat others with respect and fairly.
• Do not engage in behavior that could be perceived as harassing, disrespectful or hostile.
• Uphold safety, health and welfare of the public, your fellow attendees and the environment.
