JOIN THE EVOLUTION

The American Filtration and Separations Society (AFS) exists to create positive change worldwide by providing comprehensive educational opportunities and fostering a community of collaboration through networking and idea-sharing within the filtration and separation industry.

AFS member companies drive collaboration and innovation to ensure clean air and water, safe foods and beverages, pure and effective drug therapies and medical devices, smaller and more powerful personal electronic devices, as well as reliable and efficient transportation platforms, such as trains, boats, and planes. This work is critical as filtration-specific engineering courses, in universities or otherwise, are few and far between.

AFS exists to bridge that gap and equip individuals in the filtration industry, whether a sales manager or a graduate student, with expert knowledge and practical understanding, while connecting them with other AFS member companies and individuals, empowering them to make a difference.

NETWORKING

AFS members benefit from the opportunity to connect with other industry professionals, and those in academia, to build personal relationships that contribute to not only their individual success but your company's success.

To foster networking, AFS hosts the premier filtration and separation yearly conference, FILTCON, and other networking events both virtually and in-person through webinars, short courses, and local chapter meetings.

SHARING OF EXPERTISE

The AFS educates newcomers to the field and experienced professionals throughout their careers through educational initiatives, including virtual and in-person short courses, technical conferences, chapter meetings and student poster competitions. The AFS Learning Center offers live and on-demand courses, conference proceedings, journal articles and One Minute Filtration articles.

Simply put, AFS corporate members help develop and advance the state of the industry and educational knowledge base through sharing of expertise, product showcases, and new technologies and advancements.
